Minden council reviews official plan draft

Public to have an opportunity to express opinions on policies at a public meeting in July

A draft official plan for Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships has been presented to council, and will be revised slightly before the public gets a chance to view it.

The plan, which sets down development priorities for the municipality, was drafted by Robert Lehman Planning Consultants Ltd. of Barrie, in co operation with Anson, Hindon and Minden's planning advisory committee. Background studies for the document began last summer, and covered some 26 topics related to development and land use in the municipalities. As well, the consultants undertook seven special studies focussing on key planning issues.

One study looked at the issue of converting cottages to permanent residences. It detailed the extent of permanent versus seasonal waterfront development in the municipality, identified areas unsuitable for further development based on terrain and lake capacity analysis, noted the amount of cottage conversion that has taken place over the past five years, and examined the financial implications to the municipality of cottage conversions.

A second study examined the engineering, financial, legal and planning implications of development on private roads, as well as ways of financing further municipal road acquisition.

A third study is expected to provide the municipality with guidelines for capital expenditures, including a look at the cost efficiency of upgrading roads versus maintaining them in their present condition.

A fourth study focussed on Minden township's capacity to accept future growth and on policies to improve and upgrade the business district.

A fifth study includes preparation of the community improvement strategy to be included in the official plan, along with suggested implementation policies.

A sixth study focusses on analysis of terrain and lake capacity, matters of vital importance to future development decisions for the municipality. Air photographs were used to identify areas physically suitable for permanent and seasonal development within 300 metres of all lakes presently accessible by road. The study also developed criteria for mapping hazard land along specific waterways in the municipality, and included site investigation of areas subject to development pressure.

A major purpose of the official plan is to "promote development in a manner which will ensure the protection of the area's natural resources", according to a statement in the draft document presented to council last week.

To that end, the plan sets forth general policies to guide changes in the "physical structure of the townships" and provides "a framework within which council can assess the merits of proposals for development, exercise their power to pass zoning by-laws, control subdivision development and grant consents for conveyances of land".

While much of the document is taken up with generalizations with little direct relevance to local ratepayers, it does include some development principles which, while not yet finalized, are specific. Among them is a proposal that residential development in areas designated as waterfront cannot exceed a density of two units per acre, and that new residential development in these areas has to occur on lots with a minimum water frontage of 125 feet. No backlot development will be permitted in waterfront areas. As well, the plan proposes that no municipal services beyond those already available in waterfront areas will be provided.

The plan also contains special provisions directed toward development on private roads. In keeping with provincial planning policies, the draft plan states that no further severances will be permitted unless public road access is available to the properties. However, development will be permitted on lots abutting private roads provided the lots existed at the date the plan becomes official.

Flood line and hazard land mapping of the townships is currently underway, and a summary which may be sent to ratepayers notes that "when the findings become available, it is probable that additional restrictions may be placed on development in some cottage areas. This will apply only to those areas subject to flooding and other natural hazards."

The official plan is a statement of policies, and as such, it has no authority to influence development. A means of enforcing the policy is provided by a comprehensive zoning by-law, which will accompany the plan.

Councillors and members of the planning advisory committee went over the draft with Robert Lehman in a two hour session last week, and will meet again to continue their discussions. Changes suggested by council and the planning advisory committee are expected to be incorporated in another draft, which will be made available to the public at a day long meeting to be scheduled for sometime in July.

Adoption of the official plan, and provincial approval, could come as early as this fall.

Toos Reid led a sing song at CHACE Place in Haliburton last Saturday morning as part of the centre's first birthday celebration. Dozens of youngsters and parents were on hand to take part in a variety of activities and share in a huge birthday cake to mark the occasion.

Historical Society meeting set

A county wide historical society is expected to be formed this Thursday night at a special meeting in the Anson, Hindon and Minden council chambers.

The concept of a local historical society has drawn widespread support from municipal councils and citizens of the area. Main purpose of the society would be to oversee efforts to improve or relocate the Kanawa International Museum of Canoes, Kayaks and Rowing Craft, although it could undertake other historically oriented projects as well.

An initial meeting several weeks ago to consider the possibility of forming a local historical society attracted more than 50 municipal politicians and interested citizens. Thursday's meeting if expected to get the society off the ground.

Stanhope reeve Harry Davis, who has spearheaded the effort to form a local historical society, said a board of directors will be elected at Thursday's meeting.

The meeting will get underway at 7:30 p.m., and local citizens with an interest in the idea are invited to attend.

Pair charged with theft of car

Two Haliburton residents face a number of charges following an incident in which a car was stolen from Curry Motors in the village. Terry Curtis Grant, age 21, and Jamie Richard Austin, age 16, have been charged with break, enter and theft, theft of a vehicle, and possession of stolen property.

Police began their investigation of the matter at 1:50 a.m. last Wednesday, when a local resident reported seeing someone inside the Curry Motors building. Three OPP officers from Minden detachment responded, arriving on the scene within 20 minutes, but the culprit had left the scene.

Stolen in the breakin was a cash drawer containing an amount of money, two boxes of candy bars and a set of car keys.

Officers investigated the occur-

Prospects for ski trails encouraging

Provincial officials have expressed interest in a proposal to link cross country ski trails throughout Haliburton County, and it could be known as early as next week whether or not the province will help fund the project.

Curtis Eastmure, president of the Haliburton Highlands Nordic Trail Association, the group proposing the linked trail system, said a meeting with tourism and recreation ministry officials in Toronto last Tuesday was "very positive".

"I think they're interested and looking at it very seriously," Eastmure said in a telephone interview Monday.

A major concern of provincial officials was ongoing financing of the project, Eastmure noted. The officials sought assurance that any funds the government may provide would be "a one shot deal", he said.

Under the proposal drafted by the local association, with the aid of the Ontario Ski Council, up to 75 kilometres of trails would be cut, beginning later this year, at an estimated cost of $263,000. Funding would be shared among the province, local councils, and the private sector.

As well as linking existing trail developments in several townships, the Nordic Trail Association would like to create a 25 kilometre competitive track in the area to provide training facilities for Olympic athletes and to attract World Cup Nordic races.

The combined development would have a major impact on winter tourism in Haliburton County, the association believes.

Eastmure said the five page brief presented to officials at last Tuesday's meeting was an overview of the proposal designed to "get a foot in the door." Since reaction from the province was positive, the association will expand on the data in the brief at a meeting next Wednesday in Toronto.

Eastmure is optimistic about the chances of the project receiving some provincial assistance.

"I certainly feel very good about it," he said.

Controversy ends, Minden buys backhoe

The controversy surrounding Anson, Hindon and Minden council's plans to purchase a tractor/backhoe appears to have come to an end. At a meeting Thursday, council voted to purchase a Case 580 model for $49,787.10 from B.E. Larkin Equipment Ltd., one of eight companies which submitted tenders. Only councillor Gary Kenney, who has opposed the purchase from the outset, voted against a resolution to accept the B.E. Larkin Ltd. tender.

A decision to proceed with the purchase came after protracted arguments at previous meetings over the need for the machine, and how it would be financed. From the outset, councillor Gary Kenney maintained that the municipality should rent backhoes from local reatepayers rather than buy a machine. As well, Kenney questioned whether the hours it would be used would justify the cost, and maintained that the money would

Hydro wants more

Ontario Hydro has taken the first in a series of steps to establish new rates by proposing an average increase of 9.1 percent for 1985.

The proposal has been sent to Philip Andrewes, Ontario Minister of Energy, who will refer the proposal to the Ontario Energy Board. The Board will then hold public hearings to examine Hydro's 1985 rate proposal and report its findings to the Minister of Energy. Following review of the Energy Board's recommendations, Ontario Hydro will announce the new rates in the fall. New rates become effective January 1, 1985.

The increase will vary among the 320 municipal utilities and approximately 100 large direct industrial customers according to their monthly electrical demands and service conditions.

Without this increase Hydro's revenues would be $349 million short of the level needed in 1985.

The main factors contributing to the additional revenue requirement are continued inflation, the retubing of Pickering Units 1 and 2, and new generating units coming on line.

The 1985 rate year is forecast to be the peak year for operating cost increases related to new generating units being placed in service. In addition to one unit placed in service earlier this year, five more units will be started up at Pickering B, Bruce B and Atikokan during 1984 and 1985.

"Although these factors result in a proposed rate increase above our forecast of inflation in 1985, reduced fuel costs from these units will mean overall savings for our customers for many years to come," Chairman Milan Nastich claimed.

Hydro's rate proposal does not recommend the implementation of seasonal or time-of-day rates in 1985.

College grads find jobs

A graduate placement report of community college graduates from full-time post-secondary programs notes that despite the difficult economic times, 77 per cent of last year's college graduates who were available for work found employment.

The report, released by Colleges and Universities Minister Dr. Bette Stephenson, states that the economic circumstances that prevailed during 1983 did in fact have an adverse affect on the job seeking activities of the graduates. However, despite such circumstances 14,122 of the 18,334 graduates who were available for work found employment. The 22 colleges graduated a total of 24,514 students last year.

Of the 14,122 that found work, 12,198 graduates found employment that related to their training. Median starting salaries for last year's graduates were between $14,000 and $15,000.

be better spent on other projects.

Other members of council disagreed with Kenney's stand, and at times the issue became heated, with deputy reeve Ed Pergolas arguing forcefully against Kenney's opposition to using surplus water department funds to buy the machine.

In the end, council worked out a plan whereby the machine will be purchased out of general revenue rather than water department coffers. Any shortfall in general funds resulting from the backhoe purchase will be met by the water department's surplus cash, and paid back at bank interest. The purchase will be amortized over five years, council decided.

While the scheme proposed by Pergolas appeared complicated, and was questioned by Kenney, who wanted to know how it would be shown on the municipality's accounting records, council accepted the plan after clerk Elinor Burke agreed that she could keep track of it with normal accounting procedures.

The machine is expected to be delivered before the summer.

rence, then spent time checking other businesses around the village. When police left several hours later, the thief, or thieves, returned to Curry Motors, stole a set of license plates from a truck, and placed the plates on a 1984 Pontiac parked outside the showroom. Then, using the stolen keys, they drove off in the car.

At 9 a.m. on the same day, two persons were denied a visiting pass at the Millbrook Correctional Centre. A member of the staff there, noticing a set of truck plates on a passenger car, notified the Millbrook OPP detachment. An officer responded and while on route to the centre, he encountered the stolen Pontiac. It was in a ditch, wrapped around a Hydro pole. Two persons were standing beside it.

The car, valued at $14,000, was totally destroyed.

Grant and Austin were taken into custody and charged with various offenses stemming from the morning's events.

The newly opened co operative play school in Wilberforce is a busy place these days, as parents and youngsters get together for a morning of creativity and fun. The school, affiliated with CHACE Place in Haliburton, is open every Wednesday morning at the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre.

Monmouth council

A special meeting of Monmouth Township council was held on April 10.

The Senior Citizen Housing Committee will be advised that Council wishes to have the Housing questionnaires forwarded directly to the Housing Analyst at the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing provided terms of a meeting held at the Lloyd Watson Centre between Judi Bodnoff and members of the Housing Committee are incorporated in writing to the Committee's satisfaction.

A copy of this resolution will be sent to Judi Bodnoff.

Council decided to re-tender the position of part time caretaker for the Tory Hill Community Centre, tenders to close May 4, 1984 at 4:00 p.m.

The 1984 revised road budget in the amount of $119,000 was adopted and council's withdrawing its application for supplementary subsidy.

Council will request the Ministry of Transportation and Communications to forward specifications for a two way dump box and tenders for it will be called.

The Liquor Control Board of Ontario will be requested to extend hours at the Wilberforce Store to be open full time, Monday to Thursday and Saturday 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. and Friday 10:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. from the start of Victoria Holiday in May through and including the Saturday of Thanksgiving Weekend.

Council will advance sufficient money to the Monmouth Agricultural Society so that they may run a dance May 5.

Computers for SSF

Dr. Charles Pascal has announced that Sir Sandford Fleming College and a consortium of six other community colleges, has received $2.6 million dollars from the Federal Skills Growth Fund to develop computer assisted instruction.

Galway Cavendish minutes

The third regular meeting of Galway/Cavendish council was held in the Township Office on Saturday, March 31, 1984 at 10:00 a.m. Present were reeve Carl Brickman, deputy reeve Jean MacLellan, councillors: Roy Carswell, Harry Stuart, and Henry Nokes.

Garry Faulkner, Gary Wietzel and Hugh MacLellan attended the meeting to discuss "the tax rebate for commercial establishments" in the Township. Faulkner, acting as the spokesman, presented a brief outlining the gross differences in taxes paid by commercial establishments based on the existing equalized factor for commercial vs. residential assessment under Section 63. Deputy reeve MacLellan and councillor Carswell declared a conflict of interest on the following resolution: that the Townships of Galway and Cavendish implement a grant program for the Commercial establishments, effective for 1984 taxation that will eliminate the difference in taxes paid by the Commercial establishments that is equivalent to the difference between commercial and residential section 63 factor.

Harry Platt, Township's representative on the Kawartha Region Conservation Authority's Committee, attended the meeting to present the Policy and Procedure booklet for the Authority and to answer any questions council might have on their 1984 budget.

The Policy and Procedure booklet from the Kawartha Region Conservation Authority as presented by Harry Platt, was received.

Councillor Carswell declared a conflict of interest on a cheque contained within a resolution that Roads Voucher #3 for the month of March, in the amount of $17,416.85, be approved for payment.

General Voucher #3 for the month of March, in the amount of $176,163.77, was approved for payment. The above amount includes payment to the school board of $125,762.00.

Minutes of the Roads Committee meeting held on March 30 were adopted as presented.

Resolution 84-10 was amended by changing the amount of money from $65,707 to $145,206, which will include the hi-float for 1984.

Minutes of the Galway Cavendish Culture and Recreation Committee meeting of March 20 were adopted as presented.

Minutes of the 66 Foot Shoreline Road Allowance Committee meeting of March 16 were accepted as presented.

Minutes of the Committee of Adjustment meeting of March 16 were received for information purposes.

Minutes of the meeting of the Galway Platoon of the Galway Cavendish Fire Department held March 18 were accepted as presented.

A summary of the Peterborough County Board of Education minutes of March 22 was received.

By-law 84-8, a by-law to authorize the sale of land, was passed.

By-law 84-9, a by-law to convey those parts of a 66 foot road as shown upon Registered Plan Number 2, for the Township of Cavendish, in the County of Peterborough, designated as part 3 on Plan 45R-4664 and part 1 on Plan 45R-5014 to Lynn and Victoria Ferrill and to convey to her Majesty the Queen, in the right of the Province of Ontario, as represented by the Minister of Natural Resources, part 2 on Plan 45R-5014, was passed.

Severance B-29/84 (Estate of Dr. Ferns, Concession 18, lot 2 Cavendish) was supported.

Irondale: dreams of a boomtown forgotten

Quiet valley once the scene of speculation, hopes for riches

Irondale. The name suggests an industrious place, a community founded on a vital resource. A person seeing the name on a map, with no knowledge of the area, might imagine a grimy mining town in the backwoods of northern Ontario. How surprised that person might be if they turned off of highway 503 in Snowdon Township and drove down the narrow road, over a bailey bridge, and into the place named Irondale. There isn't a smokestack to be seen. No open pit mine has been gouged into the rock. In fact, there's no evidence of industry at all in Irondale. Instead, it's a sleepy little valley, with a few modest houses, a couple of farms, an attractive white frame church, and patches of mixed hardwood forest blanketing the surrounding hills.

On a rainy Friday in April, when the pictures on these pages were taken, there is nothing at all to give a visitor a hint about the origin of the community's name. For that, a curious passer by has to turn to the history books, specifically, to Nila Reynolds' invaluable overview of Haliburton County's past, 'In Quest of Yesterday'.

The ancient rock of the Haliburton Highlands, scoured by the great glaciers of the last ice age, are rich in minerals, and when settlers began to arrive in the latter half of the 19th century, it was inevitable that some of them would discover and try to tap local resources. As early as 1870, iron had been discovered in Snowdon Township. By 1875, a Toronto lawyer named Short had established the "Victoria Iron mine", and was shipping ore to the railroad terminal at Kinmount by horse drawn wagon. The venture proved costly and short lived, but by 1878, another speculator had decided to risk his future on Snowdon's iron deposits. M. Miles, an Irishman, formed the Snowdon Iron Mine Company and financed the construction of almost seven miles of rail line from Howland, on the Victoria Railway north of Kinmount, to Irondale. Miles spent $60,000 on the venture, and shipped a number of carloads of ore south before his capital ran out.

Undaunted by the history of failure that plagued those who staked their fortune on Snowdon's iron, two Chicago businessmen named Parry and Mills poured $200,000, a staggering sum in those days, into the construction of a smelting furnace in the Township. They lasted until 1887, when the operation was bought out by Charles J. Pusey, the best known of all the iron speculators to leave a mark on the area.

In 1881, Pusey formed the Toronto Iron Company, and with the support of American investors, he bought out the existing rail line and mining equipment in the area. Pusey, along with a man named L.B. Howland, carried out extensive prospecting and testing in Snowdon, and discovered a substantial ore body at Irondale. Elaborate plans were soon in place, including a survey for what was expected to become a bustling townsite around the mine and smelter that Pusey envisioned.

A March 12, 1885 edition of the Echo reports on Pusey's plans to build two blast furnaces each with 30 ton capacities, out of which he hoped to produce 22,000 tons of pig iron a year. The furnaces were to be wood fired, and their appetites for local forests would have been voracious, an estimated 240 bush cords a day, or 87,600 bush cords a year.

Pusey envisioned a work force of 500 men at the furnaces, and a further 500 in the mines. At least 50 men would have been employed in each of the surrounding townships to cut wood for the furnaces.

Armed with his ambitious plans, Pusey pushed for the construction of a railway to serve the southern townships of Haliburton County, and on March 25, 1884, the Irondale, Bancroft and Ottawa railway was officially launched with a government charter and government funds.

The line headed eastward, following the Irondale branch of the Burnt River. Pusey was responsible for the construction of the first 15 miles of the line, while the continuation to Bancroft was supervised

It's important

Planning is not a matter that concerns most ratepayers in local municipalities. Unless their own property is directly effected, very few people pay much attention to development decisions taken by councils. Occasionally, however, matters come to the forefront which have relevance to all citizens of a particular area, and when that happens, ratepayers would be wise to get as much information as they can.

Current deliberations in Anson, Hindon and Minden leading to an official plan for the municipality are one instance where everyone with property in the area has an opportunity to play an active role in the planning process. And there will never be a better time for people to have their say than when the document is in its draft stage.

Planning plays a key role in the long term viability of a community. Without substantial and well thought out guidelines, development may take place erratically, subject to the whims, ideas and prejudices of property owners, entrepreneurs and councils. For years, this was the rule rather than the exception. And the consequences can be seen everywhere in Haliburton County. The hideous backlot development that blights the Lake Miskwabi area in Dysart et al is perhaps the most distressing local instance of the kind of poorly conceived development that was common before the province created The Planning Act to put teeth into planning decisions. But on countless other lakes in Haliburton County, shorelines are overcrowded with cottages and resorts, and the littoral zones so vital to a lake's ecosystem have been ruined by chainsaw happy property owners, boat houses, lawns and retaining walls. Throughout the area, severances have cut up large tracts of land into a checkerboard of residential lots, so that clusters of houses can be found in scores of places.

The creation of an official plan gives local residents a chance to have a say in the way their municipality will look in future years. It affords them the right to speak out about poor planning policies, and to press for regulations that will make the community a more attractive place to live and work. It is an important opportunity that should not be missed. Ratepayers in Anson, Hindon and Minden would be wise to take the planning process seriously enough to attend a public meeting on the draft official plan when it is held sometime in July. After all, the official plan will be around for many years to come.

Good people

Minor hockey in Haliburton appears to have made a strong comeback in the past year, and many people deserve credit for its resurgence. President Bob MacNaull, vice president Gary Brohman, and other members of the executive have worked tirelessly, and often thanklessly, at one of the most time consuming and potentially frustrating volunteer jobs in the community. Coaches, too, have done much to keep the organization going, and this year at least, growing. No one outside the minor hockey organization, or without youngsters playing, can have a very good idea of how much time it takes to coach a team, or of the problems that can arise when parents want Johnny to be an NHL star, yet coaches continue to put up with the inconveniences and the complications, presumably because they believe it is important for local youngsters to have a chance to play hockey.

All these people, and others whose contribution is less visible, but perhaps no less important, are the backbone of the community. And as such, they deserve to be congratulated on a job well done.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

Re: Abortion: a complex, demanding issue.

Society today has become the victim of "grey areas". There are no absolutes so it seems. Everything is seen as relative, even the value of human life. It is this kind of thinking that has made issues such as abortion complex, even confusing in some people's minds. When absolutes are thrown away and a person accepts relativism he cannot by definition know that truth is. The concept of truth and non truth is blurred under relativism and thus a person can only guess which is the best course to follow.

The biblical view of human life and its value is absolute. Man is fearfully and wonderfully made in the image of God and every baby in the womb is in the image of God and a possessor of the resulting dignity given by God. When an abortion is performed and an unborn baby is killed, the abortionist is in reality killing the image of God. The argument made by the abortionist that the unborn child is not a person has been based upon the nonexistence of any image of God and because of this nonexistence of God and the non occurrence of creation there is no dignity or value assigned to prenatal life. Respect for God and respect for human life go hand in hand, but since the link between God and man has generally been severed there has been a constant devaluation of human life. A low view of man has been held by many for some time. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr. once remarked, "I see no reason for attributing to a man significance different in kind from that which belongs to a baboon or a grain of sand." From the premise of the 1973 Supreme Court decision (Roe vs Wade) holding that unborn children were not persons protected by the U.S. Constitution there has been an organized effort to depersonalize and dehumanize the unborn. This is especially seen in the terms that have been assigned to the unborn, "sub-human non-personhood" (F. Raymond Marks), "unwanted fetal tissue" (Ellen Frankfort), "a gobble of meat protruding from a human womb" (Philip Wylie), etc. Babies are now fetuses and abortionists have semantically sanitized their atrocities.

Another of the big moving factors in the issue of abortion is the fact that it has become big business, a business that well exceeds half a billion dollars a year in the U.S. alone. Commercial uses for unborn children have been discovered also. In 1980 a truck coming from central Europe was stopped by guards at the Swiss-French border. It was loaded with frozen fetuses for use in laboratories for French cosmetic factories. A French newspaper explained that there was a brisk trade in fetal remains for "beauty products used in rejuvenating skin, sold in France at high prices". This is not an isolated occurrence, American pharmaceutical and chemical companies have a strong interest in fetal materials.

The "lesser of two evils" approach to abortion as put forth in the Echo article is ludicrous. This idea of course is the offspring of the thought that the world is ambiguous with few choices of absolute right or wrong. This is not a Christian idea but a philosophy that was established by Georg Wilhelm Friedrich Hegel. Prior to Hegel men thought in terms of absolutes, however Hegel's philosophy obliterated the idea of an objective God of absolute truth and of moral absolutes. The lesser of two evils or situation ethics approach to abortion does exactly the same thing. It is neither absolutely right or absolutely wrong to have an abortion. It has become a case of degrees. In other words it is more right or less wrong to have an abortion in some situations than it is to have the baby in the same situation. This is to say that if abortion is the lesser of two evils then having a baby would therefore be the greater evil. I find that type of thinking contemptible. The error of the situation ethics or lesser of two evils concept can be seen in the example put forth in the Echo article, "One case would be the result of pregnancy following rape. Which is the more loving action, to let the woman bear the bitter fruit of that violent attack or have an abortion". To refer to an innocent unborn child as bitter fruit is to devalue human life. I refer to the unborn child as innocent because if the lesser of two evils approach dictates that it would in fact be less evil to have an abortion than to have the child, then the innocent child would be put to death for his father's crime. In civilized society as far as I know it is the criminal that is punished and not his offspring.

God has not permitted the Christian the luxury of ambiguity or being menpleasers when it comes to the issues of life, for He is a God of absolutes. The bible states that the reason Jesus came was that we might have life in the absolute sense. Finally when it comes to the plight of the unborn, Every year a business establishment takes stock, or in other terms, they take inventory. This should be the case with all of us as individuals. We should stop every now and again and take stock of ourselves. In other words, we should glance into the mirror and see where we are at and just where we are going. We must also ask ourselves the question "Is our community a better place in which to live because we are a part of it?" What we are trying to say is, are we a part of the community or do we just live here? Are we really making an effort to play a part in our community by belonging to organizations and by supporting worthy causes? We must all remember that a community is just as good as the people who live in it.

The 8th annual Festival of Fun will be held at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School on Wednesday, April 25 at 7:15 p.m. The entertainers who will be donating their time and talent are all local people. They are guaranteed to make the evening a special one. The annual Festival of Fun is presented by the Haliburton Chapter of the Association for Children and Adults with learning disabilities. There is no admission charge for the evening, however a collection will be taken to help aid the ACALD. It's on Wednesday, April 25 at 7:15 p.m. at the HHSS.

As we travel around Haliburton County we find that more and more, everyone is interested in the economy here and are wondering what we can do to improve it, especially during the winter months so that we will have a more balanced year round economy. Many people are of the opinion that we must always be on the lookout for small industry or any other project we can get so that we can put as many people to work as possible. We can't let up, we must continually strive to get everything we can here in Haliburton so that everyone can have a decent standard of living. We have been lagging behind some other communities and it's about time that we stopped living in a dream world and started to face the hard facts that we are going to have to fight hard for everything we get.

As we all go out to face another week let's make it a point to stop criticizing other people and go out and see if we can't give someone a hand who is in trouble or who is faced with a special problem that they are finding very hard to solve. If we would all stop thinking about ourselves what a great world this would be. Let's all give this some thought and try to put it into practice right away.

It was just two years ago this coming Saturday night that those amazing Haliburton Midgets were playing in the final game of a best four out of seven series with Langton at the Haliburton arena. This game was for the Ontario championship and if you will recall one of the largest crowds ever to witness a hockey game at the Haliburton arena turned out to see the biggest game of the season. The line up of fans extended from the lobby of the arena to the municipal hall. And by the way Langton won this seventh and deciding game.

While driving past the Shamrock Service Centre in Haliburton last week if you were like everyone else you were likely wondering what Jim Reynolds was doing in there with his big shovel digging into the bank on the left hand side of the present service station. The owner, Eric Edwards, informs me that he is preparing for the construction of a car wash.

Al Blanchard, local electrician from Haliburton, was telling me last week that he was just one number short from winning close to $800,000 in the 6/49 Lottery draw. The number he needed was 33. He also tells me that if he had had the number 8 instead of 18 he would have won $200,000. In the long run he didn't go home empty handed. He won $2,800. Al travelled to Toronto one day last week with his friend Neil Howe to collect his winnings.

Did you ever stop and think of just how many different organizations we have here in the County of Haliburton? We have never taken the time to sit down and add them all up but I would bet that the total number would really surprise you. One just has to wonder where all the money comes from to support them all.

We have it on good authority that Hyland Supply, who now have a store on the by-pass in Minden, will be opening a Haliburton branch in the former Western Tire store on Highland Street. The company also has stores in Bobcaygeon, Lindsay and Huntsville.

It's always easy to sit down and criticize the local council when they are doing things that are unfavourable to the general public. When they do something that is good we very seldom hear about it. During the past two weeks I have had several people come to me and mention that it would be nice to put something in my column about the splendid manner in which the Municipality of Dysart are looking after the dump in Haliburton. Some of the people who at one time were critical of the council's action at the local dump are now praising their fine efforts at the site.

We send out our thanks this week to Kenneth

G. Austin, a real estate broker from Dryden, Ontario and a former resident of Haliburton, for sending us this interesting photo showing the log drive at Pine Lake, Gooderham, Ontario about 1903. Gordon T. Austin, who is shown out front, was the foreman of the drive for the Craig and Austin Lumber Company of Kinmount, Ontario. One of the Pickens boys from Gooderham was drowned at Three Brothers Falls while breaking a jam. The men shown in the photo are Madills, Wrights, Barrs, Seagwins and a Howe, Maxwell and Pickens.

You may include your advertisement with our bulk mail out of the 1984 Directory. Last year's price for enclosing your brochure was a concern to the members. With this in mind we have arranged to have half page ads printed for members wishing to participate at a price of $400 or less depending on participation. The directories are scheduled to be printed on May 14, so please get your orders in early.

Hospitality Centre

We had the pleasure of attending the Italian Night at the Hospitality Centre on April 10. The students and staff really have to be commended for their work. The food was delicious and well presented by students who are obviously very enthusiastic about their new careers. Scott Hammond, one of the instructors, reports that at least once a month the Training Centre students put on a function that involves the people of the community, including their future employers. These functions are most essential from a technical training point of view. They give students the opportunity to exercise their newly acquired skills not only in front of guests, but also at a standard that is acceptable by the hospitality industry.

The Haliburton Highlands Hospitality Training Centre is the only program in existence that trains employees for entry level positions in the hospitality industry.

Rebecca Parkes is the Managing Director and is as charming as she is talented. Her supportive guidance is evident in trainees' comments regarding the life skills training portion of the program.

Seminars

Your Chamber of Commerce will present the first in a series of Management Seminars designed to assist its members in solving day to day management problems. The first meeting will take place in the Board Room of the Outreach Centre in Haliburton at 7:30 p.m. on May 2, 1984. Rebecca Parkes will be guest speaker and the topic is "Help your staff work to full potential". The admission fee is $10 on a first come first served basis.

White pine

On September 9, 1983, 32 representatives from provincial tree and forest organizations sat down in a Toronto boardroom and voted Pinus strobus, eastern white pine, the official arboreal emblem of Ontario. The official tree idea was a notion of the late James Auld's, in 1980 when he was Minister of Natural Resources. It fit the criteria the official choosers worked from: a native tree with broad distribution; one with good life expectancy, shape and the ability to grow under varying conditions. It also had to have economic, cultural and historical importance and good looks.

Ontario's Natural Resources magazine, 'Landmarks', also states "Ontario is built on a white pine foundation. White pine provided shelter, furniture, industries and jobs, created transportation networks, led to exploration and brought in foreign capital.

Throughout the 1800's, money from cutting timber - most of it white pine - and the sale of cutting rights made up the single largest source of revenue for the provincial treasury. It financed government functions and helped to build our first roads and schools. At one time, Ontario's white pine accounted for nearly 40% of the exports from all of Canada."

Hydro Rates

It has been estimated that Hydro's proposed 9.1 per cent rate increase for 1985 will cost the average homeowner about $50 next year. I feel it is ironic, to say the least, that the provincial government would allow Hydro to propose a 9.1 per cent increase (after 7.8 per cent this year and 8.2 per cent in 1983), while requiring workers to

Miles Roberts
RR #2
Haliburton, Ont.

To The Editor:

Unfortunately, Mr. James' sermon on Abortion is full of partial truths, errors of omission and commission, and is based on a narrow religious interpretation of a very complex social issue.

Several cross-Canada polls have shown that women favour "on-demand" abortion irrespective of religious persuasion, by a two thirds majority. Women, and only women, have the right to debate this issue. No longer can a chauvinistic power elite make laws and decisions that determine what women can or can't do with their own bodies. The argument that a fetus is not an extension of a woman's body is specious in that it is the woman who gives birth to that fetus, who must sustain, nurture and rear the child that results.

Mr. James states that Jewish religious tenets are against abortion. He fails to mention that this applies only to the minority orthodox sect and that the vast majority of Jews support the liberalization of women in society. He quotes the views of Ms. Amiel and Dr. Grant as supporting his premises. Both people are on the extreme right wing of mainstream Canadian perceptions. It has been said that they both are slightly to the right of Ghengis Khan and make Reagan look like a Socialist.

Finally Mr. James replaces hard facts with theological emotionalism. There is a quasi-logical argument for the Anti-Abortion position and he would have been more persuasive if he had advanced it here. Anyone who has seen the faces of the millions of stunted and starving unwanted children of the Third World understands that quality of life, not quantity, must be the determining factor in giving birth. To give birth to an unwanted child is a far greater social crime than abortion no matter in what social milieu it occurs. Today, especially, with a nuclear holocaust in our future, with rising poverty and unemployment, with a frustrated and neglected new generation, it requires a great love and desire for children and the material and social environment necessary for their nurture, before a woman can, in good conscience, give birth. Abortion on demand has been available to the wealthy since time began. Our present laws discriminate against the poor, the ignorant, and our visible minorities in a very harsh manner. Greedy doctors, uncaring nurses, reluctant abortion committees and non-performing hospitals make abortions for those who need them most, an almost impossible nightmare. In Quebec, Dr. Morgentaler's clinics have provided an inexpensive, caring, available option to the bureaucratic

Report from Parliament

By Bill Scott M.P.

On April 9, the Minister of Agriculture announced that the Farm Credit Corporation is now offering farmers five, ten and twenty year fixed interest rate terms on loans under the Farm Credit Act.

The interest rate for the five year term will be 14 per cent. For the ten year term, the rate will be 14 5/8 per cent and for the twenty year term it will be 15 per cent. Previously, the fixed interest rate terms have been for 10 years, and since November 1983 the rate had been 13 per cent. This marks a 1.5/8 per cent increase on the 10 year term loans. It will, however, allow farmers to choose the term of their loan.

To assist farmers in the task of producing food for the nations, the Hon. Don Mazankowski introduced a motion in the House of Commons requesting the Government consider removing the 9 per cent federal sales tax on fuel used in food production. The motion was passed and sent to the House of Commons Standing Committee on Finance, Trade and Economic Affairs for consideration on February 17.

I have supported Mr. Mazankowski's motion and agree with his recent remarks that "the federal sales tax on fuel is an up-front tax that acts to reduce economic activity further along the food production chain. By taking money out of the producers' pockets, it reduces their ability to purchase machinery, equipment, fertilizer and other inputs. Sales of the items not only stimulate the economy, they increase the productivity of producers. The fuel tax should be rescinded to encourage the growth of all industries related to food production and to maintain a strong agricultural and fishing sector in Canada."

Top players receive awards at local hockey banquet

The 1983-84 minor hockey season in Haliburton came to a fitting end on Monday night as players, coaches, minor hockey officials, and other people associated with the game in Haliburton, gathered in the Legion auditorium for a banquet and awards presentation.

Minor Hockey president Bob MacNaull paid tribute to many individuals and groups for their contributions throughout the year. In particular, he thanked coaches and managers for their dedication to minor hockey, to the community's young people, and for their support of the Minor Hockey executive.

A number of local businesses and clubs purchased sweaters for house league teams this year, MacNaull noted. The Novice team sweaters were paid for by the Haliburton Kinsmen, the Atoms by Emile Duchene and Haliburton Truck Service, the Peewees by Ken Fielding of Dixie Lee, and the Bantams by the Rotary Club of Haliburton.

The OMHA Atom team also got new sweaters in the 1983-84 season, courtesy of Dennis Debler Well Drilling.

Others who were thanked for their support of minor hockey this year included Vince Connaughan, who sponsored the Midget tournament, referee-in-chief Claude Parish and his wife

Bruce McKay was thanked, while awards for the players were provided by Esso through local dealers.

Following the dinner, medals were presented to a number of players on each team, and every player received a puck for his participation throughout the season.

On the Tyke team, Jamie Cowan was voted the most valuable player, while Josportsmanlike player.

On the Novice Blue squad, Mark Morissette was honoured as the most valuable player. Peter Brohman was the most improved player, and Jonathan Bishop was the most sportsmanlike player.

When the houseleague Atoms were called up, Matthew Williams received a medal as the most valuable player. The most improved player was Mike Rosenberg. Scott O'Neil was voted the most sportsmanlike player on the team.

Top player on the OMHA Atom squad was Jason Billings, a prodigious goal scorer who helped the team go all the way to the provincial semi finals. Most improved player on the team was net minder Hans Fluegel, while Russell Morrison was voted the most sportsmanlike player on the squad.

On the houseleague Pee-wee squad, Brian Waller was

HHSS teams on to COSSA

A total of 23 players gain the right to enter finals

Haliburton high school's junior and senior badminton teams continue to show their skills and determination in tournament action. A total of 23 players qualified for COSSA competitions in tournaments last Wednesday and Thursday.

Among the seniors, who competed in a Kawartha tournament last Wednesday, 10 players qualified for COSSA by finishing in the top four places. The team racked up 18 points, 10 more than the second place school.

In ladies' singles action, Marla MacNaull earned a second place, while Jenny Rendall finished fourth.

In ladies' doubles, the team of Tara Davies and Wendy Ballantyne finished in fourth spot.

In men's doubles, Rob McLeod and Andrew Shapira finished first, while Paul Mayo and Paul Vuksic were in second spot.

The mixed doubles competition produced a first place finish for the team of Jeff (Boomer) Stamp and Lori Dunham.

Last Thursday the junior team saw action, and they too amassed a total of 18 points, well ahead of the next closest school's six points, qualifying 13 players for COSSA competition.

In ladies' singles, Michelle Harrison earned a fourth place finish. In ladies' doubles, Sue Vuksic and Kim Elias finished second, while Kim Mumford and Marion Medcalf finished in third place.

In men's doubles, the team of Greg Lodenquai and Tran LaRue earned first place, while Ian Cooper and Len Johnston were third.

In mixed doubles, Greg Foran and Melissa Creelman were second, with Barry Scully and Lindsay Tashlin finishing third.

MNR announces moose hunt changes

Natural Resources Minister Alan Pope has announced changes to the 1984 Ontario selective moose kill in direct response to suggestions by moose hunters throughout the province.

Beginning this year, all applicants for a cow or bull tag must first buy a moose hunting licence before entering the tag draw. If their name is drawn for a validation tag, they may hunt only calves.

As well, hunters who applied last year and did not receive a tag in last year's computer draw will be given preferential treatment in the 1984 draw.

All applicants for 1984

moose validation tags will be divided into two pools: one for those who applied last year and did not receive tags and one for those who received a tag last year or are applying for the first time in 1984.

In addition, all hunters who apply for a validation tag this year may specify two choices of Wildlife Management Unit. Pope advised hunters to consult the Wildlife Management Unit Tag Quotas in their 1984 Moose Hunter's Handbook, and to choose units that had a ratio of available tags to applicants of 1:2 or less in 1983. Those units had less hunting pressure, and applying to hunt in them this year makes it more likely that a hunter will receive a tag.

"The choice of Wildlife Management Unit has a direct bearing on whether a hunter will receive a validation tag," Pope said. "In some Management Units last year, every hunter who applied for a tag received one. In others, however, the demand for tags was greater, and this made the chances of not being drawn as high as nine to one," he said.

Depending on the number of applications in each unit - and provided that the unit's

The Return of the Wild Turkey

Chances are that Christmas dinner is as close as you've ever come to contact with a wild turkey. For many people, they're the stuff of American folklore. No wonder. By the early 1930's they were all but wiped out south of the border and long gone from that portion of their original range in southwestern Ontario, due to habitat destruction and hunting.

Famed naturalist C.H.D. Clarke appeared to conclude their story when he compared the prospects for restoring this magnificent bird to the challenge of reintroducing buffalo to the prairie wheat country. But today Meleagris gallopavo, one of two turkey species native to north America, is back in Ontario, released in small numbers into part of its former range in Haldimand-Norfolk.

Growing to a length of three to four feet and with a wing span of up to six feet, wild turkeys depend on tracts of mature deciduous forests for cover. Mating in late winter before ground-nesting, they feed on wild fruit, berries and nuts and occasionally small birds or mice. Keen eyesight, excellent camouflage and strong wings, allow wild turkeys to keep their distance from intruders, which makes them very attractive to hunters.

Reintroduction has been attempted before in Ontario with little success. This is largely because it was executed by inexperienced individuals, using birds which had interbred with domestic stock and were unable to survive in the wild. But this winter's well-organized release involving the Ministry of Natural Resources, the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters and the Federation of Ontario Naturalists, faces other serious obstacles. Severe winters could wipe out a fledgling population overnight. Poaching and accidental interbreeding with domestic birds also pose real problems requiring close monitoring of the unpublishied release sites. Such programs are expensive and involve tremendous logistical problems in arranging the purchase, safe capture and transport of the transplanted stock.

We won't know for some time if the experiment will prove as successful here as others have south of the border. But together with recent programs to resurrect the peregrine falcon and bald eagle in southern Ontario, the reintroduction of the wild turkey is a laudable sign that wildlife managers are developing a commitment to maintain, indeed restore, the wildlife diversity which we have all come to cherish.

Irondale as it looks today

Mines died, and so did dream

by his partner Howland.

Despite Pusey's heady optimism and talents as a promoter and developer, the mines of Irondale were a failure. Pusey's Howland Mine had a 100 foot shaft and two drifts, but the ore it produced was too high in sulphur to be useful. And so the dream of prosperity faded. The elaborate townsite was never built upon. Between 1901 and 1911, population in Snowdon fell, as settlers were lured westward by the dream of richer land and a better life. Some 22 farms were abandoned in those years.

In the summer of 1913, a devastating fire raged through the area, reducing more than 40,000 acres of forest to ashes. The land never recovered. Even now, the forests around Irondale are less substantial than in other parts of the county.

Today, Irondale is very little different than it was in Pusey's time. It is still a quiet valley, a place where hopes and dreams spring up and fade away, according to the cycle of existence in rural Haliburton.

Managed forest a way to reduce your taxes

You may be paying more municipal tax than you need to. The Ontario Managed Forest Tax Reduction Program provides municipal tax rebates to property owners to encourage the proper management of private woodlots. The rebate equals 50 percent of the municipal taxes levied on managed forest assessment.

All eligible owners wishing to participate are required to complete and sign an application form that includes a certificate of qualification. To be eligible for the program, you must reside in Ontario, be assessed as the owner of a "managed forest" which is located in an area designated under the Woodlands Improvement Act as a private management area, have paid at least 50 percent of the 1983 taxes levied on the eligible forest, and be prepared to certify the forest as a "managed forest". The managed forest must be a minimum of 4 hectares (10 acres) on one parcel of land. There are species types and tree number requirements.

validation tag quota can accommodate all the applications - those whose names are entered in the preferred pool can receive a tag. If there are validation tags left over, names will then be drawn from the second pool. The application deadline for the 1984 draw is Tuesday, May 15.

The total number of adult moose validation tags available for the 1984 hunt will be close to 50,000. As well, two Wildlife Management Units have been added this year to the four existing units which provide special archery seasons.

The ministry has held three open forums - in Timmins, Sudbury and Iroquois Falls - to discuss the moose kill system, and another meeting has been scheduled for Thunder Bay.

As well, the Provincial Moose Allocation Advisory Committee will also hold public hearings in Thunder Bay on April 25 and Sudbury on April 26 to examine aspects of the selective killing that affect tourist outfitters.

Pope said he wants to examine all the comments raised in the forums before proposing any major changes to future selective moose kills. "But we felt we had to address a couple of the major concerns now, so hunters can plan for this season," he said.

The Minister cautioned that no change will be made on the current prohibition of party killing of moose until there is a clear consensus on the issue.

A Moose Hunter's Handbook for 1984, which explains the details of the selective kill program, were mailed beginning Tuesday, April 3 to all hunters who purchased a moose licence in 1983. The handbooks are now available at the ministry's District offices and from licence issuers.

Campbell, Concession 8, part lot 19 Cavendish) was deferred until the next regular meeting, so that information may be obtained as to the purpose of this severance.

A resolution from the Township of Georgian Bay pertaining to assessing trailers in a "trailer park", for the purpose of collecting taxes was endorsed and the local MP, Bill Scott, will be notified.

A resolution from Township of Vespra pertaining to annexation of land was tabled.

The Townships of Galway and Cavendish had no objection to a Mr. Baker constructing a road over Crown Land being Lots 15 and 16, Concession 10, Cavendish, providing he adheres to the conditions as stated in the Ministry of Natural Resources' letter of March 13/84.

The clerk-treasurer was authorized to tender for the Township's fuel consumption for the year 1984-85.

A request to purchase the 66 foot road allowance leading to water, was deferred until members of council have had an opportunity to view the property.

Policy 84-1, a policy to set the fee for requests of material/information from the Township Office, was passed.

The clerk was authorized to tender for the Township insurance requirements for 1984-85 and tenders will close at 4:00 p.m. on April 27/84.

A letter from the Office of the Premier pertaining to the Bicentennial Awards, will be forwarded to the Culture and Recreation Committee and the Fire Department for their input and recommendations.

Council consented to a minor variance being made on Concession 10, part lot 25, Plan 6, lot 9 Galway Township and authorized Peter VanRossum to bring a minor variance application to the Committee of Adjustment.

A request from the Victoria County Science Fair Committee for a grant was denied.

Cool, clear water.....water

There's a recent country song out containing the phrase, "You don't know what you've got 'til it's gone". I know exactly what it means. I just spent a long, thirsty weekend in Buffalo.

We arrived at Ed's mum'm apartment parched from the trip. I immediately made a beeline for the kitchen faucet, turned on the tap and poured myself a glass. Forgetting to inhale, I took a very short sip of pure swimming pool. Used, yet. I made Ed go to the store for some pop. But all weekend I craved water. Cool, clear water.

Otherwise, it was a very interesting weekend. Something like being on a four day marathon. You know how it is when you go back to your old stomping ground. One doesn't dare miss a single relative. And they each have big plans for the weekend. I hope we managed to placate all of them. If not, I'm sure I'll hear about it. We even made the rounds of most of our friends.

How we stayed awake through it all, is more than I can explain. Our days ran from about 6:00 a.m. to 2:00 a.m. We each had particular people to see, and cravings to satisfy. The first thing we had was a mess of Buffalo chicken wings. (Would you believe) And then we dug into a real live pizza. The only thing we didn't squeeze in was a genuine Ted's hotdog. Luckily, all the kinfolk wanted to wine and dine us. The second day out, we had enormous reuben sandwiches on russian rye bread. Things got so good, on the Sunday, we even had a champagne brunch. Our first ever. Apparently, you have to go away to be appreciated. The food did get to be a bit much. They all wanted to feed us. Some of them seemed a mite put out that we wouldn't eat for them. After all, one has to consider the size of one's clothes.

The high point of the weekend occurred Friday evening, just as we were ready to go to see some good friends. We said goodnight to Mom, opened the apartment door, and simultaneously, the fire alarm sounded, and we smelled smoke. Now, I've got to tell you, I've always had a phobia about being in a highrise building in a fire. It was only the tenth floor of an eleven floor building, but I could just picture myself having to jump out the window into one of those safety nets, and them dropping the thing.

It turned out to be no big deal. Someone had put something hot down the trash chute. It was real cute how the volunteer firemen put it out. Because the smoke all appeared on the tenth floor, where we were, it was assumed that that was the source of the fire. So when they discovered finally that it was in the trash chute, they aimed the fire hose down, and let her go...all the way down to the first floor, where the trash

Dear readers, it is a lovely morning and as I start this letter the sun is shining brightly, which should make us all feel better. In the chapel service Sunday night, the Thompson's were not there, Ruth to play the music and lead the singing, Harold to read the lesson, and to offer prayer. Now Rev. Burgess, who has a level head, he just took over and did it all instead. He said if we put our trust in the Lord, we may not be alarmed. He would hold us up with his everlasting arms.

In our office every other weekend is a lady with the name of Heidi. She is doing a really good job and keeps everything tidy.

Monday morning down at fun and fitness, here is more news: Margaret Gainforth won pitching horse shoes.

The cleaning ladies down on our floor are Barbara Carpenter and Helen Lee. The way they keep things shining is really good to see. Barbara says she has a new grandson and is looking for another one. We miss Joan Kernohan. We hardly get to see her anymore. She got promoted to a higher floor. Our supervisor is still away having grand weather for his holidays. Our head cook, Mark Schell is home sick, I guess with the flu. We miss his whistle around the place and it leaves us feeling blue.

Angus Coulter works away, day after day, making all old furniture look like new. If he had to quit his job, I don't know what he'd do.

Rev. Burgess took the service in the chapel this lovely Tuesday, for Rev. Wicks of Minden Gospel Church who is away. There were quite a number there, Fred Parker helped in the service by leading us in prayer. The Rev. John spoke on the scripture he had taken. David said, I was young now I'm old, yet I have never seen the righteous forsaken.

Della Curry's grandsons came and spent some time with their grandmother, and we are sure there were others, sons, daughters, husbands and brothers.

Wednesday morning the grade 6 pupils from the Archie Stouffer School came to Hyland Crest with their

We have expanded our services to include Kinmount. Meals on Wheels will begin in that area on Monday, April 23 and will be delivered Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. This hot meal is available to senior and disabled persons and will be delivered by volunteers at noon for a cost of $2. If you know of a person who could benefit from this service, please call Ken Hyams at 488-2032.

Volunteers are needed to carry on this worthwhile service and if you would like to be involved and assist in the delivery of the meals, please call Ken Hyams, he will be pleased to hear from you. A gasoline subsidy will be paid.

Wheels to Meals will also begin in Kinmount at the Kinvale Restaurant. Mrs.

Franzen, the owner, has a very attractive dining room in which she will welcome seniors to enjoy a hot meal and a social time of cards and visiting afterwards. This program will begin on Tuesday, May 8 and the cost will be $4. The main purpose of this service is to bring those who are often home-bound out to socialize with their friends and neighbours. If you wish to attend, please make a reservation by calling Ken Hyams, 488-2032.

The aim of Home Support is to enable the elderly and handicapped persons to remain independent in their homes for a longer period of time. If we can help you, or if you have any questions about our services, please call us at 457-2941 or drop in to our office which is located across from Emmerson Lumber in the village of Haliburton.

CHACE Place News

In case you have no young children, or for some other reason are not acquainted with CHACE Place, let us introduce ourselves. CHACE was developed as a place for families to grow and receive support. It is our goal to make parenting a worthwhile and enjoyable experience and a number one priority for every person with children, whether or not that person has a job outside the home.

CHACE Place is a resource centre for parents as well as children. With this in mind we have attempted to provide as much information as possible for parents in our reference library, through magazine subscriptions, informal organized workshops, and in our daily drop in centre. We have special days and activities for children (check the classifieds!), a library for children, and lots and lots of toys to play with at the centre and to take home on loan. Our hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday to Friday, and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday. (Note that we will be closed on Easter weekend from Friday April 20 to Monday April 23 inclusive.) All residents and visitors to the county are welcome to drop in and use the facilities at the centre, and are invited to become members. Membership fees are $12 per family per year, from April 1 to March 31, and provide access to the toy and book lending library, a quarterly newsletter, and voting privileges. No fee is required for use of the drop in facility; that is free of charge for everyone.

A hardworking crew of budding journalists has just produced the inaugural issue of our quarterly newsletter, "Family Focus". You may have your very own copy by picking it up at CHACE, free to members, and a limited nightmare we have here. Furthermore, these clinics provide better medical methodology than most hospitals.

Finally I must re-iterate that the anti-abortion premises fail to come to grips with reality. Unwanted children become the real losers in society. They are the abused, the future criminals and the real sufferers in an uncaring society. If the anti-abortionists will guarantee that they will provide the nurture, the funds, the caring homes and the education and employment for all these maimed and suffering children, then, and only then, should they speak.

To The Editor:

Whenever improvement fever hits Haliburton village, there is reason for concern. In a burst of enthusiasm, individuals and institutions take actions which have long-range effects on the community as a whole. Without an overall design plan, errors are made which cannot be rectified. Once a building is torn down, it is gone forever and a tree does not reach maturity in a day.

When speaking of questionable improvements, I am thinking mainly of the removal of the museum to a different area, the loss of key buildings on Highland Street during renovation and the introduction of a type of structure in the park which would look very well in a city but does not seem to fit into a natural setting. The village has lost most of its mature trees, including a clump of evergreens on the Anglican property just recently.

Now the church building is threatened too. To think that lovely St. George's, so steeped in local history, could disappear to make room for what?...perhaps another one of the nondescript structures with patterned cement-brick facing, which are so popular in Haliburton at present? Of all the building materials available, this type is one of the few which does not blend in well with older buildings. I hope the Anglican congregation can find a solution which will allow expansion without destruction of the heritage building. It takes a lot of planning to achieve harmony when blending old and new in any kind of setting, but the end results are much more satisfying, as recent Government-sponsored renovations in places like Elora, Goderich and Perth have shown. An added bonus is that these towns have become prime tourist attractions.

At a time when millions of city dwellers are escaping to the country every weekend to seek relief from the depressing ugliness which surrounds them, local taxpayers should stop the gradual transformation of Haliburton village into a mini-version of the concrete jungle, while there is still time. Why not form a LACAC (Local Architectural Conservation Advisory Committee) and let them work out an overall design with regard to aesthetics and heritage conservation for Haliburton. We have many residents with the knowledge and experience for such an undertaking.

Sincerely yours,
L.C. Dobrzensky

To The Editor:

I am writing to you as a birthmother and as vice president of the Birthparent/Relative Group of Canada. Our group consists of birthparents, adoptees, and adoptive parents who are trying to effect changes in provincial laws concerning the adoption process.

Because of our mixed membership, we are aware of all sides of the adoption triangle and of the deep psychological need that adoptees and birthparents have to reunite with their biological counterparts.

I don't know if I can explain my feelings, but I will try. I placed my daughter for adoption 23 years ago. It was not a thing that I wanted to do but I had no choice at the time. Since then I have felt that a piece of me was missing and that I would never be complete until I find her.

Oh, I realize that she has other parents and that she may be married with her own family, but I must know. She may live around the corner from me or she may have died years ago. I don't know. I do know that the love I feel for her is the same as the love I feel for my other three children. I love my step-children but not as much as I love her. I guess the biological ties are much stronger than the experts imagine. One thing for sure, the old saying about time healing all wounds is definitely not true.

Anyone interested in more information about our group may contact me at Box 1345, Morinville, Alberta, T0G 1P0.

Yours truly,
Mrs. M. Johnson

To The Editor:

Mr. Feir is to be commended for beginning his column in the Echo, April 11, 1984, with an expression of concern for the world's hungry. We need to be reminded that in our small global community there are many persons who are in desperate need of help. With a little assistance from us, their more affluent neighbours, they can be helped to help themselves.

Haliburton County has the Help A Village Effort (H.A.V.E.) Committee, which exists primarily to fund self-help projects among the desperately needy villagers of our world. Currently it is planning a big County Walk - "Walk For Wells", to take place on Saturday, June 2, 1984. The purpose of this 33 km walk (from Haliburton to Lochling, to Ingoldsby and back to Haliburton) is to raise money for the drilling of wells in drought-prone Indian villages. Near Hyderabad, India, villages, which are urgently needing pure drinking water in adequate supply, have been selected for well drilling.

Families, cottagers, visitors, and anyone who can walk, run, and sponsor are invited to take part in this big County effort.

Let's show the hungry and thirsty in a practical way that we are really concerned for their plight.

accept salary settlements below the inflation rate. The Minister of Energy has indicated that Hydro rate increases will be higher than inflation for at least the next two or three years. Hydro officials maintain that without the increase, which is about four percentage points above the predicted inflation rate for 1985, the corporation would be short some $350 million which it needs for 1985. The Minister has indicated that international lenders who have provided cash for the corporation's multibillion-dollar building campaigns would grow uneasy if Hydro were forced to borrow to meet operating expenses.

Funding for the Arts

Opposition Members questioned the Minister of Citizenship and Culture about the Macaulay Report which in essence states that the Minister is starving the arts and fattening her own bureaucracy. She was asked how she could justify the sorry state of funding for the arts in Ontario when she is at the same time inflating her own information budget, which doubled last year to some $2.4 million, although it is providing absolutely no productivity for artists and the arts. The Macaulay Report maintained that the ministry could get the best value for its investment in the arts by exhibiting restraint in its own operation. It stated that the province contributes only nine per cent of the actual expenditures on the arts, with the remainder coming from other levels of government. This is the lowest percentage for any province in Canada, and is in fact only 50 per cent of the average level. A survey sponsored by the committee discovered that 53 per cent of the province is prepared to spend up to $25 per person per annum more in this connection through taxation. MPP Hugh O'Neil cited the fact that Ontario's spending on the arts has declined by over 20 per cent since 1978/79 levels, and quoted from the Report "We believe that unless there are increases in the provincial subsidy to the arts, in part to correct the erosion caused by information, we could lose some of our most exciting talent and we will have squandered much of our sizeable investment."

We are pleased to announce that the Bakery previously known as Linkert Bakery Limited is now open for business under the name of
MAPLE LEAF BAKERY

While the name has changed we are fortunate that we have been able to retain the services of Murray Linkert as our baker. As a result you can expect the same high quality products as in the past.

Economics have forced us to make some changes in our operation. Among other things we plan to become more retail oriented than in the past with emphasis on selling our products locally in our own newly decorated shop. We will also become more visible with new signs and weekly specials.

We will, of course remain competitive in our pricing and nobody can beat our quality. We solicit the support of everyone in the area and remember our slogan which is "Everyone kneads our dough".

Monmouth seniors help the Red Cross

By KEN SANDERSON
Tuesday is a day which the Monmouth Senior Citizen club meets in the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre in Wilberforce. Recently, club president Gerald Shackleton was approached by the Red Cross Campaign committee regarding the Senior Citizens helping to fold, stuff and stamp envelopes. They club gladly accepted and handled some 1300 letters.

The big task of addressing envelopes was carried out by volunteers. In Gooderham, co-ordinator Margaret Pickens, assisted by Margaret Bates, Jean Fraser, and Dorothy Robertson, addressed over 1200 envelopes. Mes. Elsie Craig of Tory Hill took on the task of addressing some 800 envelopes.

Virginia Rivers and Susan Rivers assisted in addressing and preparing envelopes.

Mrs. May Croft is an Honorary Member of Red Cross and is believed to be the eldest active member in Ontario and possibly Canada. She will reach her 95th birthday on May 17.

Since 1984 marks the 60th anniversary in which the Red Cross outpost building was put into service, the Wilberforce Branch is putting forth an extra fund raising effort in its campaign. The objective is to raise $100 per year for each of the 60 years, or $6000. Although the building is no longer used by Red Cross, the branch continues many services.

The extensive mailing of 2200 letters is aimed at reaching non-residents. Local residents will be called upon by volunteer canvassers.

President Ken Sanderson said non-resident people show a good interest in the area and the services offered, and like to feel a part in it. The response to campaign mailing has been very encouraging in the past. Already the returns are showing evidence of a highly successful campaign. The society's thanks are extended to the many volunteers and contributors.

These members of the Wilberforce senior citizens club were busy helping to address envelopes for a bulk mailing by the area's Red Cross Society, which hopes to raise $6000 this year. Those in the picture are identified in the story at left.

Dorset News

By PHYLLIS BRISCOE

"Good nature and good sense must ever join; to err is human, to forgive divine."

A very welcome back to our feathered friends who have returned after spending the winter months in warmer climes. How good to see the robins, killedeer, sparrows and many others picking at the gardens and grassy ground for particles of food. I don't know whether there are any worms poking their noses (or heads) out of the ground yet but the little birds seem to be finding something to their liking. They tell me the pair of white swans are inhabiting an area between Carnarvon and Haliburton, that the female has an injured wing and that her mate won't leave, so they wintered in the area.

Mrs. Phyllis McKey was in from Huntsville last weekend visiting with her relatives.

Fred and Gina Baum have returned home from a six week vacation in Hawaii where they had a wonderful time. They were not on the island where the active volcanoes are spewing lava all over the place, but they did enjoy watching the great white whales that were in the area at the time, it being the mating season. The whales are huge and a newborn pup (I think that's the right term) weighs 2000 lbs. What a baby.

The Dorset Senior Club had an interesting outing last week. First they visited the bowling alley in Carnarvon where everyone tried their skill, some not having had a bowling ball in their hands for some years and some who never had bowled. But it was fun for all. After the bowling session there was a luncheon at the Reflection Restaurant, which used to be under the name of Mr. Foggs but is now under new ownership and the new owners seem to be continuing the good food and service that was enjoyed previously. There were 26 members and guests who enjoyed the outing. Afterward, some of the members returned to the clubroom for cards.

The Haliburton County Home Support Services, situated in the town of Haliburton, was organized almost four years ago. In that time they have developed into a many faceted group that deploys many services to seniors. Meals on Wheels, Wheels to Meals, transportation to appointments, recreational facilities, home visiting and many others. Most of these services are rendered by the senior clubs in the various towns. The Dorset Senior club is affiliated with them, but due to distance and with fewer members don't have a close association. There is a number anyone can call if wishing assistance in problems with, or wanting information on, housing, legal, social, environmental, health, governmental or just about anything you want information on. The number is 457-2733 and would be a toll call from Dorset.

The Monmouth Senior Citizen Club has had a number of members absent because of illness. They send best wishes for better health to Ann Andrew, Esley Matthews, Hazel Mumford and to all others unable to come out because of colds. The attendance at the weekly meetings has been sparse but the return of members who have wintered in Florida will soon show an increase. In the meantime those remaining have carried on in good spirit. Last Tuesday the men took over and prepared and served a beef dinner. If this idea catches on they may continue with the kitchen duties. One kind act was the delivery of a hot dinner to Mrs. May Croft who lives nearby and was confined to the house with a cold. A high spot of the day was the celebration of Gilbert Harrison's 80th birthday. He was serenaded with the happy birthday song and received a card signed by all the members. The women have been working on a lovely queen size quilt that will be raffled through the summer and the proceeds donated to the new play school. Meetings at the club will continue to be held on Tuesday afternoons at 12:30 until further notice.

This is the 10th anniversary of the formation of the Wilberforce Girl Guides and Brownies. We should be thankful and appreciative of the dedication shown by the leaders of this movement, who have devoted their time to the instruction of the girls. Roberta Walsh was an original leader and is still working with the Brownies.

To celebrate their anniversary all former guides, brownies and mothers are invited to attend this year's mother and daughter banquet that will be held in the Lloyd Watson Hall on May 8. It looks like a very interesting evening.

On April 28 the annual curling banquet will be held at Elephant Lake Lodge. All members are encouraged to attend.

Saturday, April 21 is the Maple Syrup Festival that everyone has been looking forward to. The Memorial Centre will be open at 9:00 a.m. and until mid afternoon there will be plenty of things to see including flea market tables, bake sale and maple syrup sale. A tasty meal of pancakes and maple syrup will be dished up by our good cooks. A dance takes place at night with music by "Lodestone".

Friday fun nights at the Monmouth Library have proved to be very popular with neighbourhood children. The last one to take place drew 80 youngsters. The addition of a fine new desk has spruced up the library. The desk was a donation of the South Algonquin Kinsmen. The old desk was worn and scarred. It was a relic from the Wilberforce school. Mrs. Beatrice Herlihey remembers using this same desk when she taught school many years ago. The girls at the library were happy to have it replaced. There is to be a book exchange this week at the library. Although people seem to be interested mainly in fiction there is always available a vast amount of interesting material in the non-fiction section. Non-fiction books, on the market, outsell fiction two to one. These are also part of the book exchange.

On Good Friday, April 20 the library will be closed.

Here is a schedule for Easter Sunday church services being held in the area. The Anglican Church of St. Margaret's 9:00 a.m. United Church in South Wilberforce 11:30 a.m. The Full Gospel Church in Wilberforce at 11:30 a.m. The service at the Harcourt Community Chapel 7 p.m.

Kinmount Korner

By MILLIE MOSS

Remember this date: April 28 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Kinmount Legion Hall. That's when the Kinmount United Church hold their flea market and bake sale with all proceeds going to the Mission Service Fund.

Another date to put on your calendar if you didn't do so last week: the Kinmount Civic Action Committee will be sponsors of a logo contest depicting Kinmount's past and future. A prize of $50 will be awarded to the winner, and the contest is open to all ages. Entries must be into Hockley's "five to a dollar store" by the closing date, April 30. The winning logo may just find its way onto the fronts of T-shirts at a later date, so why not enter now and show off your artistic know-how?

Results of the St. Patrick's CWL card party held Tuesday, April 10 are: ladies' high, Gladys Anderson; ladies' low, Ruby Schell; men's high, Flo Schlosser; men's low, Charlie Molyneux; most lone hands, Nora Swinson. There were four tables of players.

Welcome home to Bill Wilson who spent a week in Windsor.

Welcome home also to Mary and George Cowen of Norland who had a beautiful holiday of travelling through the States. George had visited the Mardi Gras a number of times but Mary had her first visit to the celebrations and said she'd love to go again.

We enjoyed the company of Bill and Win Wilson for an hour or so last Wednesday and they were lucky to find a place to sit at our house. The workers have been very busy repairing at the place and I decided to take the same time to start my spring cleaning and believe me - it's a disaster area for a while.

I visited with Eva and Cliff Shaw one day last week and enjoyed the tour of the cozy home they built for themselves.

A number of local youngsters were headed for I.E. Weldon in Lindsay on Saturday morning, April 14 to both watch and participate in the gymnastics classes.

I'm glad to hear Vi Cooke is feeling better following her bout of flu.

The Civic Action Committee will be holding their next meeting at the Kinmount Community Centre, 8:00 p.m. April 30. Everyone is invited to attend and give your ideas and offers of help for our upcoming Bicentennial. Guy Scott tells me that some really terrific programs are being planned but lots of help is still needed and of course any new suggestions are welcome to help in the project. Come on folks - get involved.

An old landmark, the school house at Irondale, which had been converted into a home by the new owner Sylvia Garrick, burned to the ground on Tuesday, April 10 with everything in it. A barn on the premises containing some animals was saved. Thankfully there were no injuries. Kinmount pumper answered the call but lack of water in the area hampered efforts and all was lost. I'm told Sylvia will be putting a trailer there very soon and will continue living at the same site.

Joan and Ken Hyams spent a few days in Toronto last week.

This recipe is taken from my Lady Hughes Chapter I.O.D.E. Lindsay, Centennial Cook Book and is called Hong Kong - 1 tin tuna fish, 1 tin cream of mushroom soup, 1/4 cup water, 1 cup chopped celery, 1/4 cup chopped onion, 1 tin chow mein noodles, 1/4 lb. cashew nuts. Mix all together and bake in 350°F oven for 45 minutes.

Remember all our sick and elderly.

Don't forget folks, Kinmount's Wheels on Meals will be starting soon, (April 23) and will be delivered Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. We should be notified two days previous so as to prepare and arrange drivers. Wheels to Meals begins May 8 and drivers will pick you up at your home and drive you to Kinvalc Restaurant where you will be able to have a friendly visit and/or card games. This will be on Tuesdays. At the moment I understand we have the help and drivers but no clients.

Come on folks, if you want to get in on this deal all you have to do is phone Ken Hyams, or myself at 488-2353. Quite a number of you asked when Kinmount would have this service so now we have it. Where are you? I phoned Ken one day last week and asked if I could get a meal for us as with all the uproar our house is in I couldn't get to the stove. Ken laughed and asked if I could wait 'til the twenty-third. Oh well, I tried. I thought I'd be the first customer.

Ken and Joan Hyams have lots of the Bicentennial buttons for sale at $1 each if you are interested. They can also be picked up at stores in town.

"Years ago kids were always served health food. If you knew what was good for your health, you ate the food".

It's so nice to look out your window and see the crocus in bloom and robins on the lawn even though there's still the odd patch of snow to be seen. The rainfall on Friday and Saturday should clear even those patches up.

Well folks, stay well and happy, read the Echo and remember - a man can't change the road he has covered - it's the path up ahead that counts.

Late items: Results of the Galway Wednesday evening card parties are: ladies' high, Flo Drinkle; ladies' low, Brenda Longhurst; men's high, Doug Drinkle; men's low, Jim Nightingale; most lone hands, Betty Stuart.

Sympathy to Marge Int-Veen in the loss of her mother.

I was pleased to hear Bobby Allen is now home from hospital. How about giving him a call?

Don't forget, if you wish to have your news/events in print give me a call at 488-2353 by 10:00 a.m. each Saturday.

Norland Natter

By KELLY GRAHAM

Before I plunge into this week's news I would like to take this opportunity to wish all of you a very happy and enjoyable Easter.

Did you survive last Friday the 13th with no major calamities? Let's hope it was a lucky day for Vincent Eason, Troy Bryant, and Lenny and Quentin Greer. All those boys are players on the Fenelon Falls PeeWee hockey team. Last Friday they participated in a bottle drive by going around the area collecting money-back bottles. They are raising money to travel to Buffalo, New York to participate in a hockey tournament. I hope you supported these enterprising young people.

Speaking of hockey, the winner of last week's hockey pool was Fern Eason. Congratulations Fern.

The Wee Boutique in Norland reopened for the summer season last weekend. The Boutique always supplies a nice selection of the latest styles, so why not check it out and support the local businesses.

Inga Wassel of Norland returned recently from a three week trip to visit her family in Sweden. While there she visited the city of Kristinehamn and the county of Denmark. She had a wonderful time visiting brothers, sisters and their children, and describes the weather as "pretty much the same as our climate."

There was a used magazine sale at the Norland Public Library last Tuesday, April 17.

The Preschool Resource Centre will once again visit Norland on April 18. I hope everyone will take advantage of this free toy and book library.

Unfortunately I was not able to obtain the euchre scores for this week.

Congratulations to Judy Heffer who is marrying Carlos Ponte, of Argentina, in Cobocok on May 5.

That's about all the news I have available for this week. If you have an item you wish to see printed please contact me at 454-3707.

The next W.I. meeting will be held Wednesday, April 18 at the Cultural Centre at 2 p.m. All ladies are welcome.

The mini card party winners last week were the following: lone hands (on a cut) Irene Houghton. Others: Johanne Beattie, Charles Beaharrell, Joyce Hewitt and S. McDougall.

If you have any news for me to print please call 286-3607. Thank you.

Sid Stamp Fuels Limited had a meeting at the Minden Community Centre Auditorium last Tuesday evening. It was an awareness meeting on Shell's complete line of products. Shell representatives were on hand to answer any questions. There were door prizes and prizes on draws. Some of the winners of prizes were Ken Fountain, Dave Lester, Tom Prentice, Wayne Colman and Leroy Lichty.

Household Hint: Brushes - clean hair brushes, rinse hem thoroughly in cold water to which a generous amount of ammonia has been added, then shake and place in the open air to dry. The ammonia removes the dirt like magic.

I hope you had a very Happy Birthday, Jennifer Packard.

Robie and David Ackersblade spent last weekend with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Ackersblade.

Sincere sympathy to the family and friends of Mrs. Bert Harrison.

Congratulations to Helen Lee on her win at Bingo.

Don't forget to visit the Agnes Jamieson Gallery to see the handy work of the Three Islands Art Association. It is an interesting exhibit. Gallery hours are Monday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

A Happy Easter to everyone, especially the young ones.

Those who hoot with the owls all night find it hard to soar with the eagles in the morning.

Pat and Bob Ackersblade spent last weekend in Toronto and Peterborough. They had a lovely weekend except for a bit of car problems.

Dave, Chris and I, my mother Mrs. Eva Harrison of Fort Erie and my sister and brother-in-law Gloria and Richard Morrison and family of Queensville visited my sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Chiasson and family in Burnt River last Saturday for the birthday party of Corey Chiasson. Don't forget the next bingo will be April 24 at the Community Centre.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Bert Harrison and family at the loss of a beloved wife and mother. Libby was held in high esteem by all; she lived quite a bit of her life here in the village and was a great church worker and a friend and neighbour to all. She will be greatly missed.

Sean Harrison of Campbell River, B.C. is spending some time with relatives in the area. Sean is the son of Ken Harrison, a former resident of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Max McKay and Dee Jennings returned home after spending two months touring Mexico and Texas with their trailer. Southern Texas, known as the Valley, has had widespread damage to their fruit trees, due to a hard frost during Christmas time when many acres of trees died, and spoiled fruit still litters the ground.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Watson of Peterborough on the birth of their son Andrew John, a first grandchild for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barnhart.

Young Mark Tulk of Petawawa is spending a week with his grandparents Anne and Max McKay, while his parents are on a seminar in Stratford.

Mrs. Bill McKay was in Toronto last week to spend some time with her mother, Mrs. Sadie Darling.

A surprise birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Thomas for Karen Thomas and Jack Prentiss of Minden. Congratulations to them both.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Thomas were in Kirkfield on Sunday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davis. Albert is to undergo heart surgery in the near future. Our best wishes go out to him.

As of the time of writing there is a very small, very thin piece of ice floating on Mirror Lake here and the bigger lakes are usually only a few days behind and so our winds will be a little warmer, allowing a few days to clean up outdoors before those pesky blackflies arrive.

Any news you would like to have in the paper, please phone 489-2924 before Sunday at 12 noon.

teacher Glen Carter to find out what we seniors did when we were young for recreation. They asked us lots of questions, which was really fine. We answered all we could, and had a jolly time.

Doris and Lindsay, our activity directors, have gone to Beaton or maybe other places to learn more about activities, to put us through our paces. We welcome Fred and Beth Parker back again we hope this time they'll stay. They're directing fun and fitness while our girls are away.

Wednesday night our entertainers came again, Cathy with her accordion, Earl with fiddle and mandolin. Gordon Ruttle playing the bones, you bet, yours truly playing the harmonica, we were a real quartet.

The Haliburton Anglican ladies brought in a delicious lunch this Thursday and served it up in a very efficient way. We thank them for coming and they said then, they were glad they came and would like to come again. The bingo was called Thursday night by Eldon Deacon and Larry King. Some players had very good luck, some didn't even win a thing.

I was sorry to miss sing song this Friday, but we just word this morning that my dear wife had passed away.

Friday night Payne and Deacon and Don Burtch with harmonica and jewsharp came. Now Don can really play and is really sharp. They played and sang some real good old songs of long ago. They entertained for an hour or more and put on a really good show.

The Splendor of Spring

Each time you hear a robin's trill,
Or pick a spring flower on some hill,
Or see a green shoot break the earth,

Or watch a daffodil's rebirth,
Or view the clouds' pattern of grace,
Or feel the wind upon your face,

It's God who's saying, "Lo, I bring
New life to all...I am the spring!"
For all of nature, bird and sod,

Is but a hymn of praise to God,
And all its beauty, joy and grace
Is the reflection of God's face.

Marilou, unfortunately for us, has recently left; in fact she is honey-mooning in the Bahamas right now. All of us, especially the children who were her first priority, miss her. There are now two new faces at CHACE: Mary MacDonald and Rozanne Hynard have taken part time positions with us. We welcome them both.

Some current events at CHACE: we are just winding up a St. John Ambulance Emergency First Aid course, and a series of wicker workshops in which participants have learned about basketry while making objects to be sold to benefit CHACE. We still have some cookbooks and T shirts for sale - get yours soon! A "Colours Consultation" will be held on Saturday, April 28 and Saturday, May 5, for a fee of $35, of which $10 goes to CHACE. Preregister at CHACE soon. We are having a big Easter party on April 19, including an Easter egg hunt, pot luck lunch, and much more. Join us then or anytime; we are located at the Lakeview Centre in Haliburton just up the hall from Sandra Fleming's College office; our telephone number is 457-2989. Drop in soon!

was burning. Sort of a mini Niagara Falls. And through it all, around the corner in the meeting room of this senior citizen complex, were six little ladies, playing cards. They never missed a hand.

Most of the weekend, we were sweating out the famous Buffalo potholes. Our car has seen better days, and it bounces more than it used to. Every time we hit one that there was no avoiding, I closed my eyes. (Maybe it wouldn't hurt so much?) I guess it's some sort of justice that we made it all the way to Maple Lake before we bottomed out and put a very leaky hole in the gas tank. As depressing as that was, we were very thankful that it happened here. Let's face it, it was nice to see everyone but all that visiting is worse than a hard day's work.

Gooderham News

By MARY HADLEY

Our snow birds are beginning to return to their summer homes. Some of the first to arrive are Mary and Ed Bacon who have returned from Florida to their Pine Lake cottage. Welcome back, friends.

Max and Marion Hartin of Prince Albert spent last Sunday with their aunt and uncle, Vivian and Tommy Dovel.

We are glad to know that Dianne Madill has been accepted to start training as an R.N.A. at the Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay. This is the career in which she has shown much interest so it is good to know that she will be able to continue in her chosen work. She has been nursing at the Haliburton Extensivecare. After a short holiday she will continue there until this fall when she enters training at Lindsay.

We are glad to know that Violet Cooke is starting to improve after a bout with pneumonia. Keep up the good work, Violet.

Our Glamorgan Volunteer Firemen were busy last week. On Monday they were called to a fire at the former home of Walter Leveck on the Black Lake road. Fred Leveck, his wife, and their family of five lived in this big building for many years so it had many memories for Walter. It has been unoccupied since 1973. Arson is suspected and an investigation is underway.

On the following day our boys were called again to the home of Sylvia Garrick. This had formerly been the Irondale School. Despite pump-ping huge amounts of water and great efforts on the part of the firemen, the building could not be saved, and is a total loss. The cause of the blaze was an improperly manufactured chimney. Sylvia lost everything. I am sure our caring people will rally round and give some help.

I'm sure many of our citizens do not realize what a service our firemen perform. On Monday they were taking inventory when the alarm came. After locating and working to contain the fire, they returned and spent more time getting the hoses and everything in order. On Tuesday night they had to respond to the second fire and upon their return had to be sure everything was in readiness again. This is all volunteer work. At the same time they have their own work to take care of. Thank you, men. We appreciate what you do.

It is good to see Eva and Carl Sisson in the village again. They are at the Texaco Station while Elgin and Yvonne MacDuff, accompanied by Murray and Wendy Hunter, are having a holiday in Florida.

The annual minor hockey banquet was held last Saturday, at the Lloyd Watson Community Centre. Many awards were presented. Among the recipients are the following from our area. In the Novice division: Andy Billings from Tory Hill; Top scorer, Michael Billings; most valuable player, Wayne Barr. In the Atoms: top scorer, Cory Hunter; Dedication award, Tony Billings.

Pee Wee Division: Best defenceman, Bobbie Craft-chick. Bantams: best defenceman, Danny Billings; Ron Mumford Award, Jamie Billings. Congratulations, boys! Thanks is given to Ron Barr who was coach of the Novice division.

Top scorer in last Tuesday's bridge night at the Gooderham School was Maurine Finlay.

Family members gathered last Wednesday to help Cecile and Roger Billings celebrate their wedding anniversary. Congratulations.

Roger and Cecile Billings, with their family, Carrie and Anthony, and Jack and Loretta Billings with their sons, Jason and Michael, are spending the Easter holiday with Cecile and Loretta's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philbert Bruneau at Verner in Northern Ontario.

The April meeting of the U.C.W. was held at the home of Jean Goff last Tuesday afternoon. The topic was about Lot's wife and was taken by Gwen Taylor. Plans taken by Gwen Taylor. Plans for anniversary services of the United Church in Gooderham on July 8 were discussed. The hostess served a tasty lunch with an Easter theme.

Haliburton Highlights by Creighton Feir

The Municipality of Dysart et al employees have been busy these past couple of weeks sweeping and cleaning the roads and sidewalks in the village. It's certainly nice to see that all the debris that has been left over from the winter months is being cleared away.

Our congratulations go out this week to Margaret and Arnold Roberts of Haliburton who celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary at their home here on Monday, April 16.

The snow in Haliburton is finally going but believe it or not there is still plenty remaining in the bush. But when you come to think about it the snow in the bush is always the last to go.

Local maple syrup operators tell us that up to this time the weather in most cases has been ideal for the making of maple syrup. One operator told me that there were several days that the sap was just running out of the trees. He said that it was the best that he had seen for many years.

The Guild Choir were guests at the Palm Sunday Service held at the Haliburton United Church. The congregation thoroughly enjoyed the singing of this fine musical group.

The Haliburton and District Lions Club are busy these days making final preparations for their big convention which will be held in Haliburton in May.

Captain Ron Mailman of the Salvation Army, who just recently was stationed here with the Haliburton Corps, will be the special guest at 100 Huntley Street this coming Tuesday, April 24 and will give his testimony on overcoming severe depressions. A special bus will be leaving the Haliburton arena at 6:00 a.m. sharp on this day, returning to Haliburton by 8:30 p.m. Those who will be going on the bus will have the opportunity to attend the programme at 100 Huntley Street and then later will go on to Cullen Country Barns at Whitby.

We are glad to report that Ronald J. Curry returned home recently following a minor operation he had in a Peterborough hospital. All his friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Work will soon be completed on the Liquor Store in Haliburton, turning it into a self-serve outlet. Extensive renovations have been made and it is expected that more stock will be on display.

Danny's Snack Bar (formerly Gerry's) on Highland Street is now open for the season continuing with daily lunch specials.

Ronald Wrightman of the Wrightman Realty Corporation told the Echo last week that one of the problems facing the youth of Haliburton is the fact that when they finish school they have to move to other centres for employment. He is trying to help solve some of these problems by giving youth 25 years and under an opportunity to join his Real Estate firm and sell Real Estate.

It would appear that the time has arrived when the business people in Haliburton will have to make up their minds as to whether they are going to stay open Friday night or close. At the present time a few are still open but the others are closing at 5:30 p.m. the same as any other night of the week. The Friday night opening which at one time was the biggest night of the week as far as business was concerned, has gradually fallen off and business in most stores on this night has been anything but good. Some people are of the opinion that Thursday night opening might be better night than Friday.

A representative from Ontario Place was the guest speaker when the Rotary Club of Haliburton held their weekly meeting at the United Church last Thursday night. He gave a very interesting talk promoting the site and then gave a slide presentation on what you can expect to do and see when you visit this very popular spot in Toronto.

If the weatherman sees his way clear to come up with some nice warm days with plenty of sunshine we could be looking forward to a very busy upcoming tourist season. Money doesn't seem to be as tight as in past years so this should help. You don't have to be rich to take a vacation and from time to time everyone likes to get away from it all and come back to the beautiful Highlands of Haliburton. Let's all make it a point this summer to keep away from littering and let's try to keep our lakes, rivers and streams clean and free of pollution.

This Sunday, April 22 the annual Easter Sunrise Service will be held at Skyline Park at 7:00 a.m.

Here are a few personal notes...Mr. and Mrs. Eric Edwards attended the Home Show in Toronto last Friday...Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson have returned home following a two week vacation in the sunny south...Rev. John Phillips, John Beachli and Rev. John James were all business visitors to Toronto last Thursday...Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnson were in Toronto over the past weekend and attended the Home Show...Mr. and Mrs. Art Dawson and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Walker are vacationing in the Bahamas...Mr. and Mrs. Ken Wilson left on the weekend for a vacation in England...Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn Elstone were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Elstone near Ottawa over the weekend.

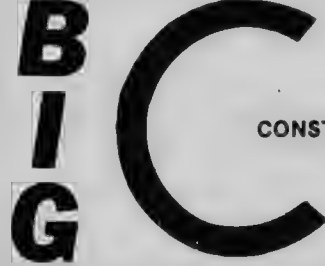

We have been hearing a great deal lately about welfare and how it is being abused. All the municipalities in Haliburton County are screaming about the fact that welfare costs seem to be climbing higher and higher. It seems to me that people who are drawing this welfare shouldn't complain when they are asked to go out and work for this money the same as anyone else. The manner in which welfare and Unemployment Insurance is being handed out makes us realize that slowly but surely we are being turned into a welfare state. For many people in Haliburton County work is just not available, which is a crying shame, but for others, collecting welfare and Unemployment Insurance is just an easy way out.

Don Lloyd, manager at the arena in Haliburton, tells me that the ice has been taken out of the arena and won't be put back until June, just in time for the Haliburton Hockey Haven summer hockey school.

The ice went out of Head Lake in the village this week. It went out much later than last year.

Rumours have been circulating in the village over the past two weeks concerning the fact that several dogs have been beaten up and left to die. We have heard a total of 6 to 13 dogs were found one morning at Head Lake Park, all beaten to death. We have tried to track these rumours down but up to this time we have received no concrete evidence that anything happened.

favourite at the recent quilt show. Jean Hewitt made the quilt and every stitch in it is her own. Her Centennial Quilt won first honours at many local fairs. The draw will be made Monday, May 21. The tickets are on sale at the Gallery now. The quilt will be on display in Minden soon.

The students who took the Health Care Aid Course would like to thank Shirley Rydman for being so patient and putting up with them for the six months. From Hyland Crest in Minden were Pat Ackersblade, Linda English, Anne Burk, Terri Dillion, Janet Donnelly, Dolores Bailey, Lee Ann Carpenter, and Jill Stamp. From Extensicare in Haliburton were Rachel Fearrey, Marlene Gillies, Pat Cummings, Cindy Hogg, Barb Walker, Fran Gregg, Diane Madill, Debbie O'Connor, Lorraine Manary and Helga Wolm. From Homewood Acres in Lochlin were: Jessie Dovell and Heidi Lewis. I would like to wish all the girls the best of luck on their finals.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wells on the birth of their new daughter in Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay, a new sister for John.

The Canada geese are coming north in large flocks now. One must be nesting in the Minden River, at least she is staying around anyway.

That is all for this week. I hope to see you all next week.
